

Jingyuan Gao

Jingyuan Gao is a distinguished guzheng performer, educator, and cultural ambassador dedicated to promoting the beauty of Chinese music and multicultural arts exchange.

With years of professional experience, Ms. Gao has performed at numerous international festivals and cultural exchange events, sharing the elegance and expressive power of the guzheng with audiences around the world. Her performances blend deep traditional roots with contemporary artistry, earning her recognition as an artist who “speaks the world’s language through the voice of the guzheng.”

As an educator, Ms. Gao is deeply committed to nurturing young musicians and fostering cultural confidence through artistic education. Under her mentorship, many students have received top awards in major competitions across Canada and internationally. She believes in the transformative power of music to inspire growth, creativity, and cross-cultural understanding.

Dedicated to the vision of “bringing traditional arts to the world,” Jingyuan Gao continues to play an active role in advancing multicultural education and promoting artistic exchange between Eastern and Western traditions. Her work reflects a lifelong passion for cultivating harmony through art and cultural dialogue.
